Future-proof

3 Sheldon Square, a 10-story building in Paddington central, is VISA's European HQ. VISA management were looking to upgrade their existing lighting controls system to a future-proof system with higher functionality, flexibility and energy efficiency. Gemini worked directly with the management team to provide the Philips Dynalite lighting control system with DALI. This achieved the customers' requirements, including DALI automated emergency testing and feedback, touchscreen scene setting, DMX colour chasing, and interfacing intelligent rooms and security barriers with colour changing lighting. Multisensors with bespoke timeouts provided an energy reduction of approximately 30%, using absence detection and daylight sensing to cap lux levels.
